

Retirement Savings Where Do You Stand?

When we talk about retirement savings, two numbers matter: the median and the mean. The median is the middle saver, half of households have less, half have more, making it the best reflection of what's typical.

The mean, or average, adds up everyone's savings and divides by the total number of people, but this number is often pulled much higher by a few very wealthy households.

Showing both side by side gives a clearer picture. The median shows where most people actually are, while the mean reveals how much the wealthiest savers skew the averages. Together, they help you see not only what's common, but also how retirement wealth is spread across the country.

Investment advisory services offered through Kingsview Wealth Management, LLC ("KWM"), an SEC Registered Investment Adviser. Insurance products and services are offered and sold through Kingsview Trust and Insurance Services ("KTI"), by individually licensed and appointed insurance agents. KWM and KTI are subsidiaries of Kingsview Partners. Information presented is for informational purposes only and does not intend to make an offer or solicitation for the sale or purchase of any specific securities, investments, or investment strategies. It is not, and should not, be regarded as investment advice or as a recommendation regarding any particular security or course of action. This information does not address individual situations and should not be construed or viewed as any type of individual or group recommendation, legal advice or tax advice. Be sure to first consult with a qualified financial adviser, tax professional, and/or legal counsel before implementing any financial or estate planning strategies discussed.